GOSPEL

First Sunday of Lent (c)

Jesus went into the desert for forty days to think and pray and during that time he didn't have anything to eat!

Jesus didn't find this easy to do. He saw the stones which he could make into bread. But Jesus chose not to because he knew God our Father had other things for him to do. Then Jesus climbed a mountain. He could see for miles and miles. He could see many countries and Jesus knew that he could make himself the King of all this land. But he chose not to because he knew God our Father is the only King. Then leaving the desert he went to Jerusalem to the Temple. He climbed to the top. He knew that he didn't have to climb down again. If he jumped from the roof God would save him. He chose not to Jesus said "it's not right to test God's love."
