How to Make Your VE Day 'Great British Bunting'
#GreatBritishBunting
#VEDay75

1) Make your flags:

To print out the template:

- Download and print the template from bbc.co.uk/makeadifference
- Cut along the dotted lines

OR

To make your own template:

- Take an A4 piece of paper long ways up (portrait)
- Fold over about 2cm at the top
- Fold the paper in half long ways
- Draw a line diagonally from the outside of the paper at the top to the fold in the middle at the bottom
- Cut along that line through both sides of the paper
- Unfold your paper

2) Decorate your bunting:

- Decorate the main triangle but leave the top strip blank
- You can decorate with anything you want – paint, pencils, collage, glitter, stickers, crayons, pens
- You can draw anything that inspires you but here are some ideas if you get stuck:
 - A soldier from WW2
 - Your grandfather who was in the navy
 - Your grandmother who worked for the RAF
 - Union Flag
 - A dove of peace
 - Your message of thanks
 - Your hero

3) Construct your bunting

- When you've decorated all of your flags, fold along the solid black line to make a flap
- Put the flap over your string or ribbon and glue or tape the flap in place
- Leave a gap between each triangle and keep adding them until you're done with a spare bit of string/ribbon on each end for hanging
- Hang your bunting in your window for people to enjoy!

We'd love to see your wonderful bunting and to share it with more people on our social media. Send us your photos or tag us in your social media posts – don't forget to use the hashtags #GreatBritishBunting and #VEDay75.

Get in touch with your BBC Local Radio station to let us know who you will be remembering this VE Day and how you will be marking the commemorations at home.

RE

It was holiday time, and lots of children were playing in the park. Tom and Andrew had met some of their friends, and were looking forward to a good game of football.

Just then, along came Paul. "Just look," said Tom. "He's got his sister with him!" And there she was. Jane was dressed in her shorts and was wearing new trainers.

"What have you brought her for?" asked Andrew.

"I had to choose," said Paul.

"Mum said I could come if I brought Jane, but if not, I would have to play with her at home."

"It's all right," said Jane. "I can play football. I've been practising at home, and I've got my new trainers."

Tom liked Jane. He'd seen her kicking a football in the school playground and knew she wouldn't spoil the game, but he felt a bit afraid of saying so. He thought Andrew wouldn't be friends with him if he did.

"Hurry up," shouted the rest of the gang. "Aren't you going to play today?"

It was now or never.

“Come on Jane,” said Tom, “We’d better put our football boots on and show them.” Then he turned to Andrew, “Give her a chance,” he said.

The game started before Andrew had a chance to answer. And they all enjoyed it, Tom, Paul and Andrew, and of course Jane.

None of them regretted that Paul had brought his sister with him.
